United We Soar!

“We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly.”

- Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

A Message From The Principal:

Philippians 4:19 - And my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.

Growth is a beautiful thing. It signals life, progress, and forward movement. Yet growth also requires care, structure, and resources to sustain it. Just as a tree must deepen its roots before it can stretch its branches higher, every thriving community must strengthen its foundation in order to continue rising.

There are seasons when expansion calls for thoughtful investment — not simply to maintain what is, but to build responsibly for what lies ahead. When we prepare well, we ensure stability, excellence, and opportunity for the next generation. Stewardship is not only about managing today; it is about positioning tomorrow for continued strength and impact.

As we move forward, we do so prayerfully and united. We believe that when we work together with transparency, faith, and shared purpose, God honors that unity. “United We Soar” is more than a phrase — it is a reminder that collective effort allows us to rise higher than any one of us could alone.

We remain committed to walking this journey together with wisdom and trust, confident that God continues to guide, provide, and sustain the work He has begun.

Blessings,
Ms. Ellis 🙏

The Fix-It Kid

"Whoa!" Lachlan yelled as his remote control jeep crashed. He picked it up and saw that a piece had fallen off.

Lachlan tried to fix the jeep—but it was no use. "Parker, can you fix this?" he asked his older brother.

"You're always breaking things!" said Parker. But he held out his hand. "All right, give it to me." In no time at all, the jeep was as good as new.

"Thanks, Parker," said Lachlan. "I sure wish I could fix something myself." Lachlan often knew in his head how to fix things, but the information seemed to get lost between his head and his hands.

Lachlan put the jeep back on the floor and raced it into his bedroom. He plopped down on his bed. I can't fix anything, he thought. Last week when the chain flew off my bike, Parker had to fix it. When my bird feeder fell apart, Dad fixed it. I wish there was something I could fix.

Lachlan did the one thing that always helped him when he was struggling. He talked to God. "Jesus," Lachlan prayed, "I know you're able to fix anything. You fixed people who couldn't see or walk, and you fixed me by taking away my sin. Please show me something I can help fix. Amen."

Later that evening, Lachlan went to the kitchen where Mom was making dinner. Instead of smiling as she usually did, she looked sad. He heard her sigh, and Lachlan wondered what was wrong. "What's the matter, Mom?" he asked.

"Oh, Lachlan," said Mom, "it's nothing for you to worry about. I've just had a difficult day, that's all."

Lachlan wrapped his arms around his mom and gave her a big hug. "Don't be sad, Mom," he said. "I love you. You're the best mom a kid could have!"

Mom wiped tears from her eyes and began to smile. "Thank you, honey," she said. "You've just made me the happiest mom in the whole world." Lachlan smiled too. Jesus had answered his prayer and helped him fix something—his mom's sad heart.

How about you?

Do you ever feel like you can't help anyone? One of the very best things you can do is encourage others. If you know Jesus, He has given you the ability to help discouraged people by showing them His love. He can use you to help bring healing to tough situations. Share His love with those who are hurting through kind words and a helpful heart.

Pleasant words are like a honeycomb, sweetness to the soul and health to the bones.
